Safety Briefing: Bill Barnitz discussed the upcoming 4th of July night fly. Be sure to put your glow sticks where they can be seen at all times. For example, if you put them on the top surfaces only, the plane will disappear once it gets airborne. Make sure you don't upset the center of gravity as you add glow sticks to your plane. When you drive in or are leaving the field, make sure you use parking lights. Your regular beams will cause to pilots to loose their night vision.

"You have to love a nation that celebrates its independence every July 4, not with a parade of guns, tanks, and soldiers who file by the White House in a show of strength and muscle, but with family picnics where kids throw Frisbees, the potato salad gets iffy, and the flies die from happiness. You may think you have overeaten, but it is patriotism."
